Saas Product Owner

We are looking for an experienced Saas Product Owner to join our cyber security company.

This is a remote position and the successful candidate will be home based. However, there will be the option to work flexibly from one of our local hubs. Ad-hoc travel to offices within the group and other locations may be required on occasion.

"a great place to work, a great place to be a customer"

The Role:

We are looking for a highly motivated and experienced SaaS Product Owner to join our dynamic team. In this role, you will be responsible for maintaining and executing the product roadmap, ensuring that our SaaS offerings are aligned with both company goals and the evolving needs of our customers.

You will work cross-functionally with engineering, design, marketing, and sales teams to drive product development, from ideation through to launch and ongoing optimization. A key part of your responsibility will be to collect and integrate insights from a range of stakeholders, conduct market research, and ensure that our platform remains secure and scalable. This is a great opportunity for a hands-on product leader with a passion for delivering innovative, high-quality products in the B2B SaaS space.

Duties include:

- Maintain a product roadmap, ensuring alignment with company goals and customer needs.
- Lead product strategy by harnessing the collective knowledge of all stakeholders and develop detailed requirement and feature specifications.
- Conduct market research and competitor analysis to identify trends and opportunities for product innovation.
- Work closely with engineering, design, marketing, and sales teams to drive product development and launch initiatives.
- Ensure that the platform and data and secure development/testing methodologies are in place.
- Oversee the product development lifecycle, from idea to launch and ongoing optimization.

The Candidate:

- A track record in product management, demonstrating a product that you have created and launched into the market.
- Love finding, designing and deploying technical solutions, having proven experience in a technical role.
- Previous experience in a similar role within a B2B SaaS environment.
